

Insurances and Medical Coverage

TII require all international students to have approved health and travel insurance for the duration of their study (regardless of their visa type). This is a requirement under the Education (Pastoral Care of Tertiary and International Learners) Code of Practice 2021.

Immigration New Zealand also require students to have insurance that covers their entire stay in NZ until the date their visa expires, which is generally 1 month after the completion of their study period. If you stop studying for any reason, you must inform your insurance provider right away and check that your insurance remains valid and correct.

TII use a number of well-known insurance companies who can offer highly competitive coverage that meets the requirements of Immigration New Zealand and the Code:

If you want us to arrange your Health and Travel insurance, please select the option on your application form and we will start the process. If you want to use your own policy, we will need to be sent details of the policy in English at least 4 weeks before commencement of study so we can check that it meets the requirements of the Code.

Accident Compensation Coverage (ACC)

If you're a student injured in New Zealand, the Accident Compensation Corporation (ACC) may be able to help you. It doesn't matter if you're not a resident; ACC's no-fault scheme covers everyone, including students, who are injured in an accident in New Zealand. However, there are limitations to this coverage, so it won't cover all costs and there are exclusions. Find out more:

He Kaupare. He Mana
He Whakaora.
prevention. care. recover

Insurance Declarations

Health and travel insurance applications mandate full disclosure of facts. Failure to disclose past claims or current/past health conditions may invalidate your insurance. Complete forms meticulously and transparently. Note that all health and travel insurances impose age limits. When in doubt, disclose to avoid potential invalidation when you need coverage most.